

Congratulations to all athletes, coaches, and participants for their involvement in the 2007 Commonwealth Wrestling Championships. We wish you continued success in the tournament.

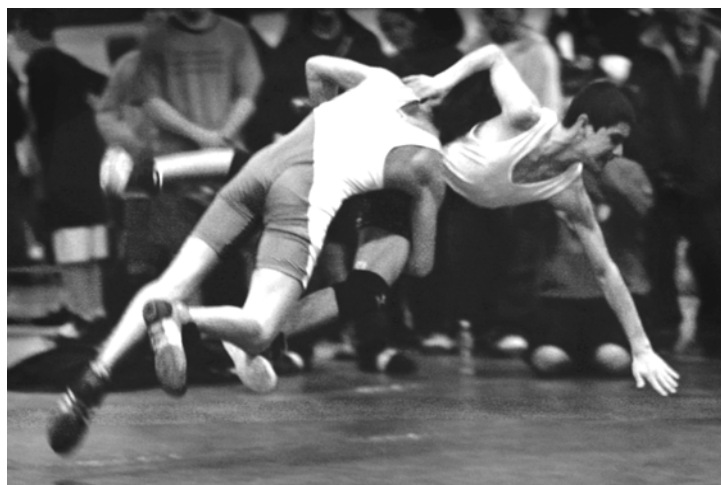

For many years organizing wrestling events has been laborious and time consuming for coaches, pairing masters, athletes, and conveners. Recently the introduction of a new technology has made hosting sporting events simple, accurate and fast... Very Fast!

In 2001 Micron Digital and Real Amateur Wrestling put their expertise in technology and athletics together to create an SMS (Sports Management System) called SplitDraw™. Recognized for its flexibility, SplitDraw™ is becoming well known as a proficient computerized draw master tool designed to facilitate, accelerate and manage wrestling tournaments from start to finish.

SplitDraw™ allows a team to register their athletes online and distributes each individual into their appropriate place on a draw sheet with respect to their weight, gender, age, and division. In addition, this system splits the competitors according to their team and seeding criteria on any round robin or bracket draw. SplitDraw™ also incorporates printing of large format draws and letter sized bout sheets from a PC. On average, a tournament using SplitDraw™ can be compiled within 5-10 minutes by one person vs. 4-5 hours of manual labour by several people.
